

Top of the Hub Provides Notice of Data Security Incident

Boston, Massachusetts, June 9, 2017 – Top of the Hub today said that a recent data security incident at its third-party vendor may have compromised the security of payment information of some guests who used a debit or credit card at its restaurant between October 27, 2016 and January 10, 2017. Guests can safely use their credit and debit cards at Top of the Hub.

What Happened? On March 30, 2017, Top of the Hub began investigating some unusual activity reported to the Company by its third-party vendor. Top of the Hub began to work with independent forensic experts to investigate these reports and to identify any signs of compromise on its systems. On April 26, 2017, Top of the Hub confirmed suspicious activity on its computer systems that indicated a potential compromise of guests' debit and credit card data for some debit and credit cards used at its restaurant.

Since that time, Top of the Hub has been working with third-party forensic investigators to determine what happened, what information was affected, protect the security of guest debit and credit cards, confirm the removal of the malware, and implement procedures to prevent any further unauthorized access to guest debit or credit card information. Top of the Hub is working with the United States Secret Service to investigate this incident.

What Information Was Involved? Through the ongoing third-party forensic investigations, Top of the Hub confirmed on April 26, 2017 that malware may have stolen credit or debit card data from some credit and debit cards used at its restaurant between October 27, 2016 and January 10, 2017. The information at risk as a result of this event may include the cardholder's name, card number, expiration date and CVV.

What We Are Doing. "Top of the Hub takes the security of our guests' information seriously, and we apologize for the inconvenience this incident has caused our guests," Alan Donatelli, President & COO of Top of the Hub, said. "We continue to work with third-party forensic investigators and law enforcement officials to ensure the security of our systems, and do all we can on behalf of our guests."

For More Information. Top of the Hub has established a dedicated assistance line for individuals seeking additional information regarding this incident. Guests can call (877) 238-2151, Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. EST (Closed on U.S. observed holidays) and provide reference number 8204060617 when calling.

What You Can Do. Top of the Hub encourages all guests to remain vigilant against incidents of identity theft by reviewing their account statements regularly and monitoring their credit reports for suspicious activity. Under U.S. law, a guest over the age of 18 is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit bureaus. To order a free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. A guest may also contact the three major credit bureaus directly to request a free copy of their credit report.

Top of the Hub encourages guests who believe they may be affected by this incident to take additional action to further protect against possible identity theft or other financial loss. At no charge, a guest can also have these credit bureaus place a “fraud alert” on their file that alerts creditors to take additional steps to verify their identity prior to granting credit in their name. Note, however, that because it tells creditors to follow certain procedures to protect the guest, it may also delay their ability to obtain credit while the agency verifies their identity. As soon as one credit bureau confirms the guest’s fraud alert, the others are notified to place fraud alerts on the guest’s file. Should the guest wish to place a fraud alert, or should the guest have any questions regarding his or her credit report, the guest can contact any one of the agencies listed below.

A guest may also place a security freeze on their credit reports. A security freeze prohibits a credit reporting agency from releasing any information from a guest’s credit report without the consumer’s written authorization. However, a guest should be aware that placing a security freeze on their credit report may delay, interfere with, or prevent the timely approval of any requests they make for new loans, credit mortgages, employment, housing, or other services.

If a guest has been a victim of identity theft, and the guest provides the credit reporting agency with a valid police report, it cannot charge the guest to place, lift or remove a security freeze. In all other cases, a credit reporting agency may charge a guest a fee to place, temporarily lift, or permanently remove a security freeze. A guest will need to place a security freeze separately with each of the three major credit bureaus listed above if the guest wishes to place the freeze on all of their credit files.

To find out more on how to place a security freeze, a guest can contact the credit reporting agencies using the information below:
